Giving Thanks and Helping families.

Being Thankful.

Thanksgiving has always been my favorite holiday. I always look forward to joining together among family and friends to give thanks for the events that have blessed our lives thus far. Each year I use this time to reflect on these positive events and use them to recharge my battery going into the cold gray winter months.

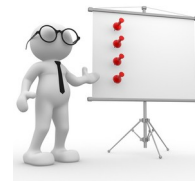

One of my highlights from 2015 was the birth of my son Stephen in September. He is our fourth child and first son. Our daughters are older (15, 13 & 12) so it was a bit of a rewind for my wife and I to recall the sleepless nights and zombie walk to calm him. However exhausted we feel, each smile Stevie sends our way trumps it all.

This little guy will keep our fire stoked through these winter cold months.

One thing that you can do in order to elevate your mood during, stressed or difficult times in your life is to jot down things in which you are grateful for. This way you can call upon them when life throws you a curve ball. It is helpful to have a resource to go to when times get hard. This is called a gratitude list.

This Thanksgiving take some time to jot down your home or on your person.

Made in the USA by specially trained glass artists, Crescent Art Glass is the most artistic and beautiful cremation glass art today. Their special process utilizes a unique method to combine cremated remains with glass. This creates a stunning, hand-made, solid glass work of art that is as unique as the loved one it memorializes. Indeed, each piece is one of a kind - no two are ever the same.

Each Art Glass keepsake is handmade and therefore unique. The Artist uses different blends of colors based on the choice of Dimensions, Infinity, Earth & Sky or New Dawn. However, since each piece is a unique and hand-crafted work of art combining a loved one's cremains, the overall look and color may vary.

Nothing is more precious than your memories of cherished loved ones. Why not memorialize them in the most beautiful and artistic way with Crescent Art Glass? By putting a very small amount of cremains into Art Glass you and your family can keep your loved one's cherished memories forever in your heart and forever in your home.
